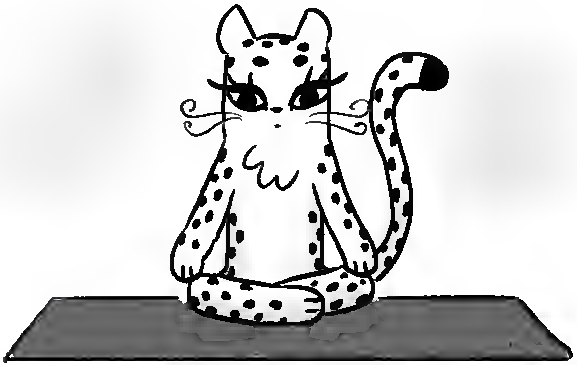
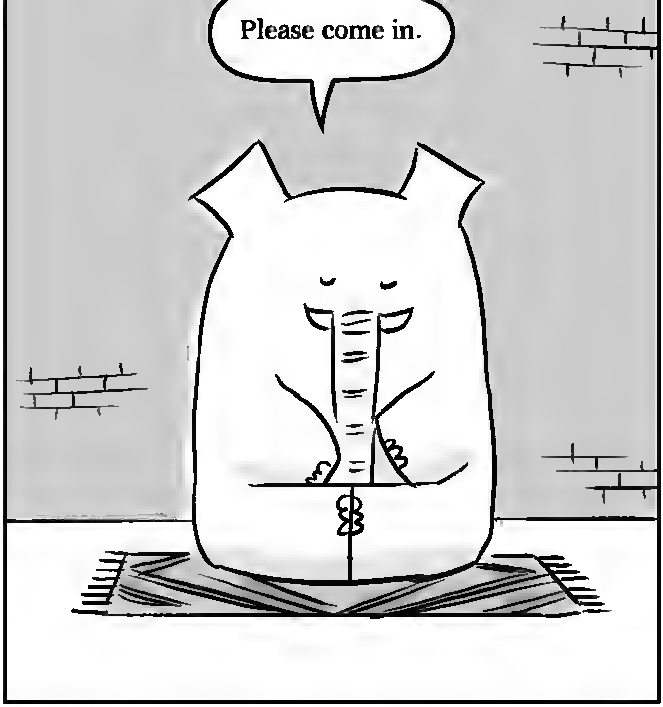
ROAR STREET JOURNAL

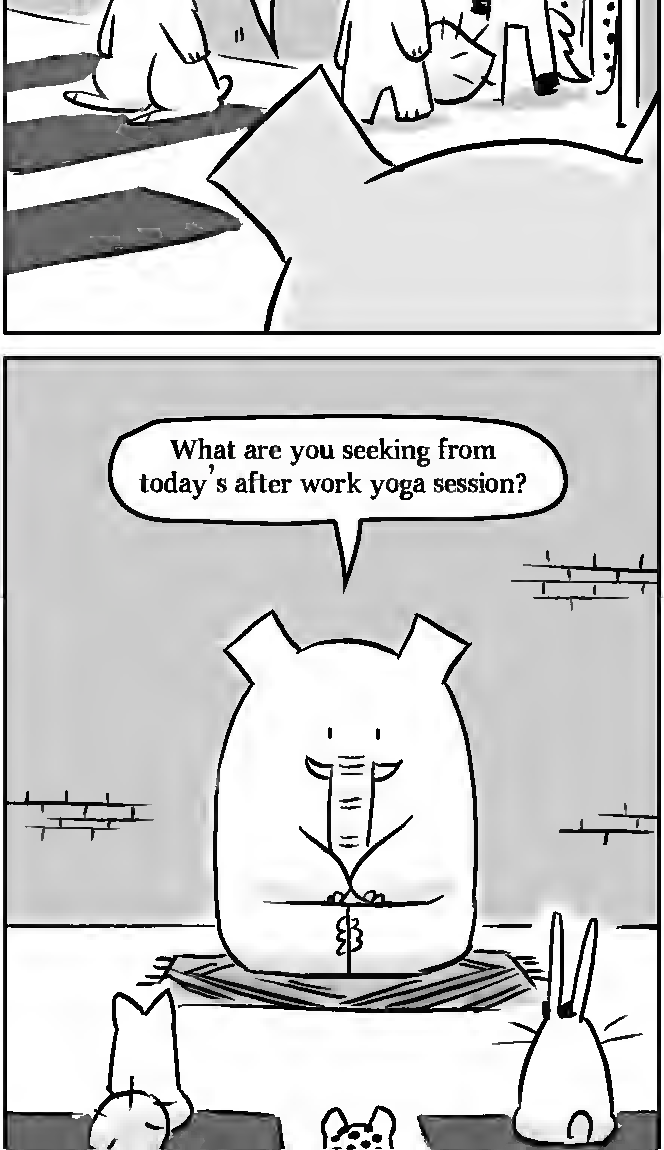
Never Too Busy



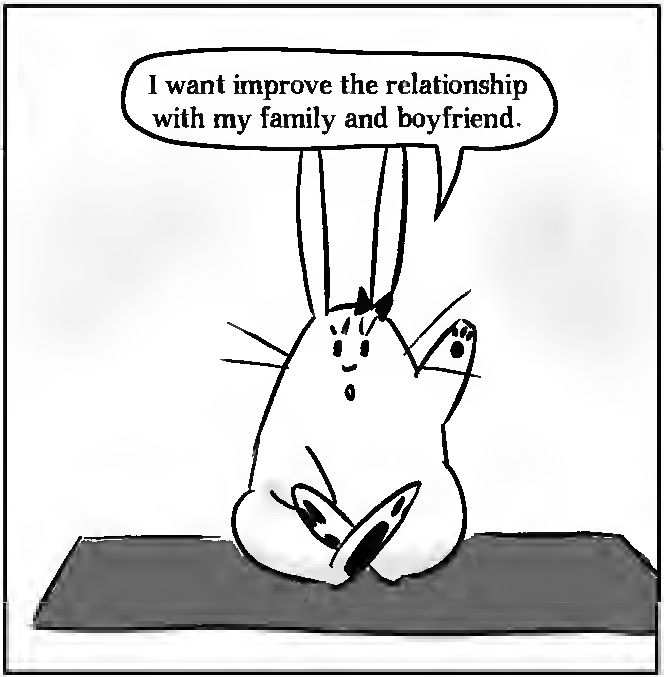


Please come in.

Seems like today is more crowded than usual.

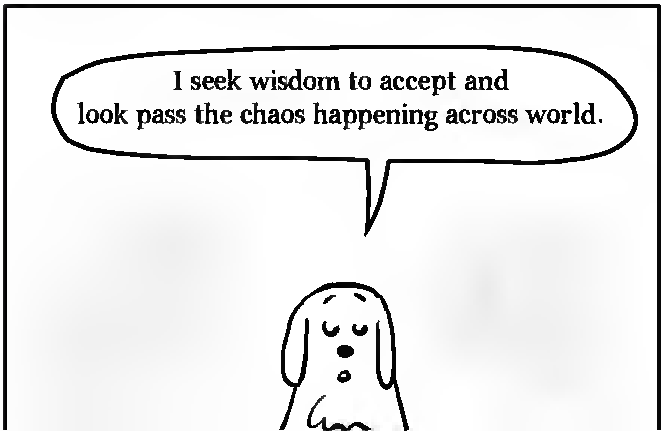


What are you seeking from today's after work yoga session?

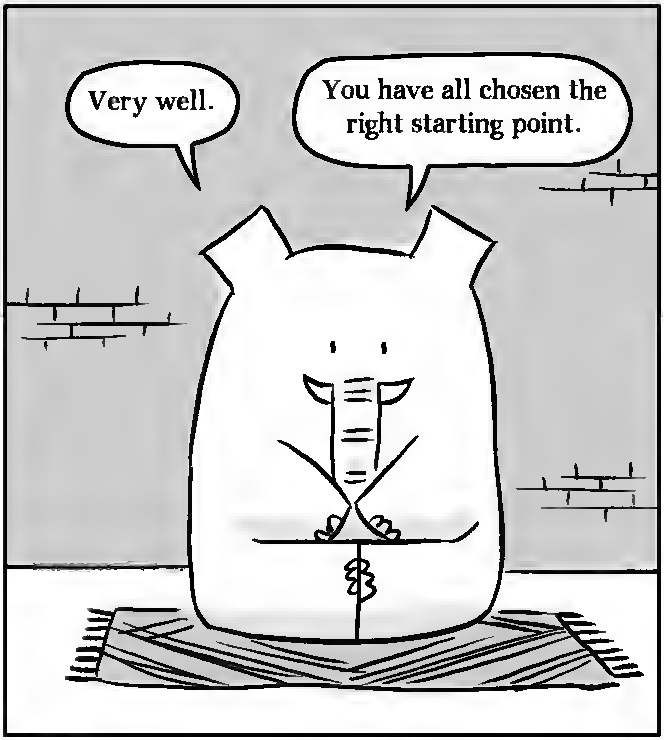


I want improve the relationship with my family and boyfriend.

I want to relax my body and mind after a week's hard work.

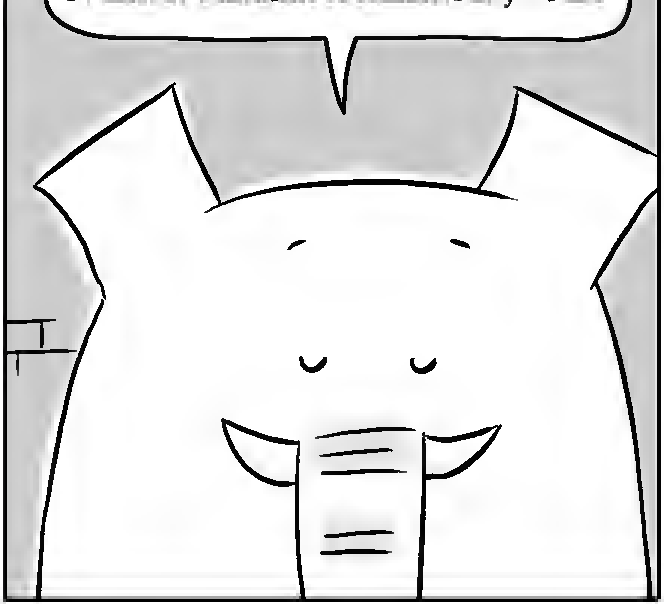


I seek wisdom to accept and look pass the chaos happening across world.



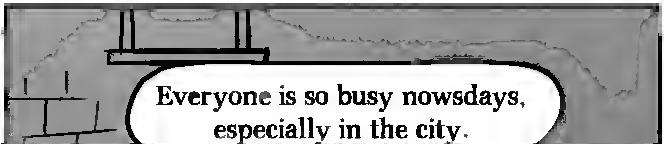
Very well.
You have all chosen the right starting point.

To include a moment of calmness in your life



Having time to relax is important.

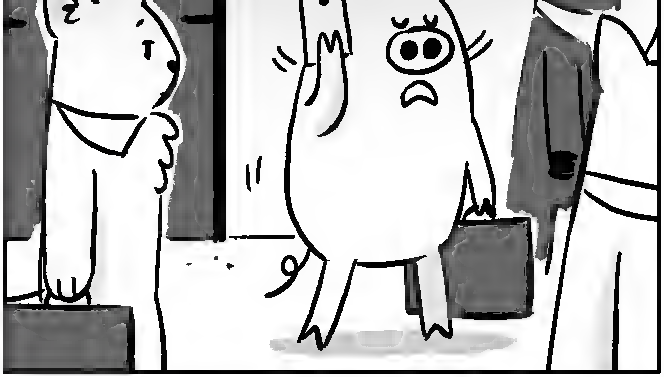
No matter how busy your life is, always find a little time to stop and relax.
It nourishes your spirit and calms your inner mind.



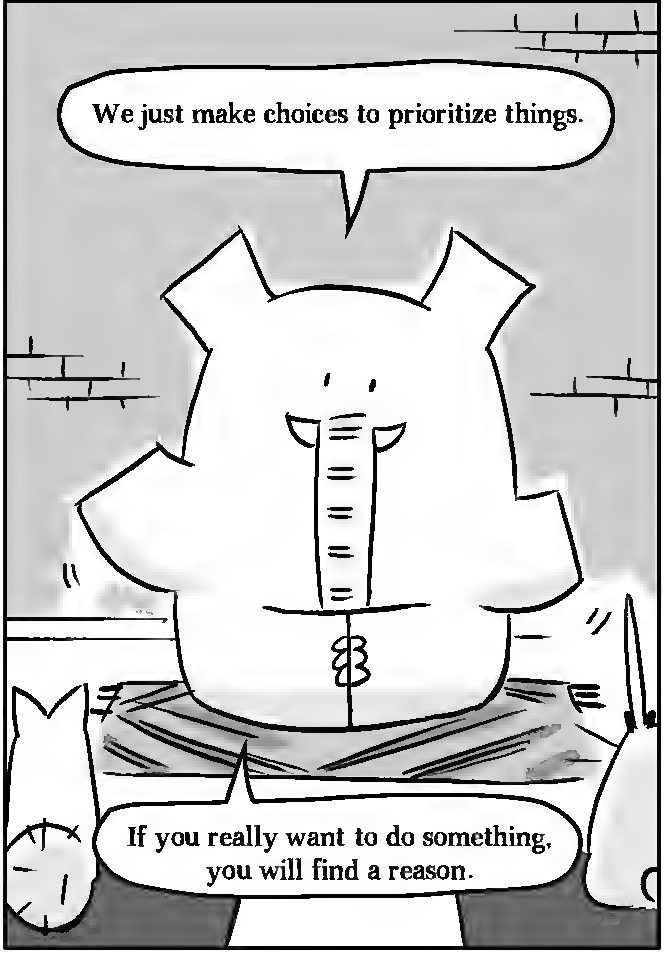
Everyone is so busy nowsdays, especially in the city.

ROAR STREET JOURNAL

We always say,
"I don't have time for this or that".



However, if we look closely,
we are never too busy for something.



If you don't want to do something, you will always find an excuse.

Try to think about how you make choices in daily life.

Leo are you coming to our autumn hike?
Nah, I'm really busy this weekend...

Weekend

Hey Tiff! Coming to the friend gathering this weekend?

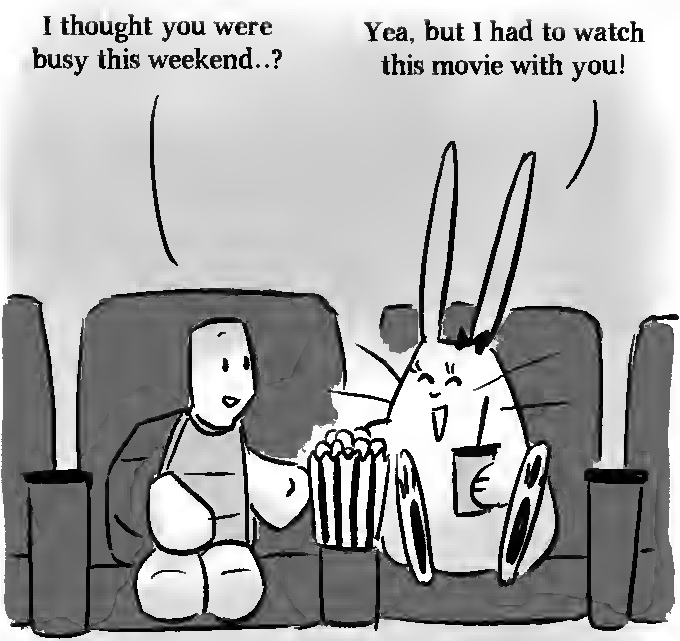
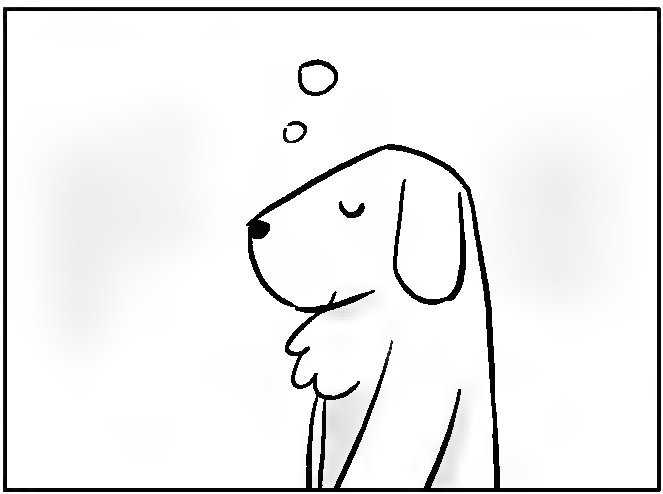
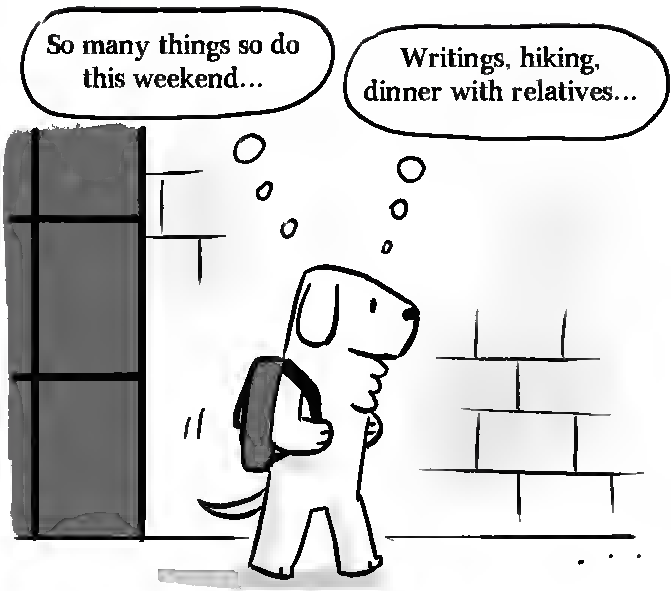
Sorry, I'm really busy! I'll join next time!

Weekend



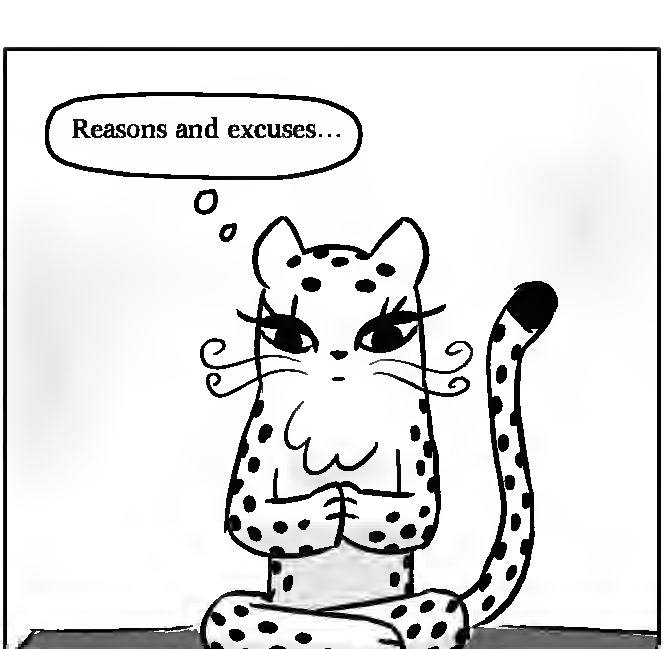
I thought you were busy this weekend..?
Yea, but I had to watch this movie with you!



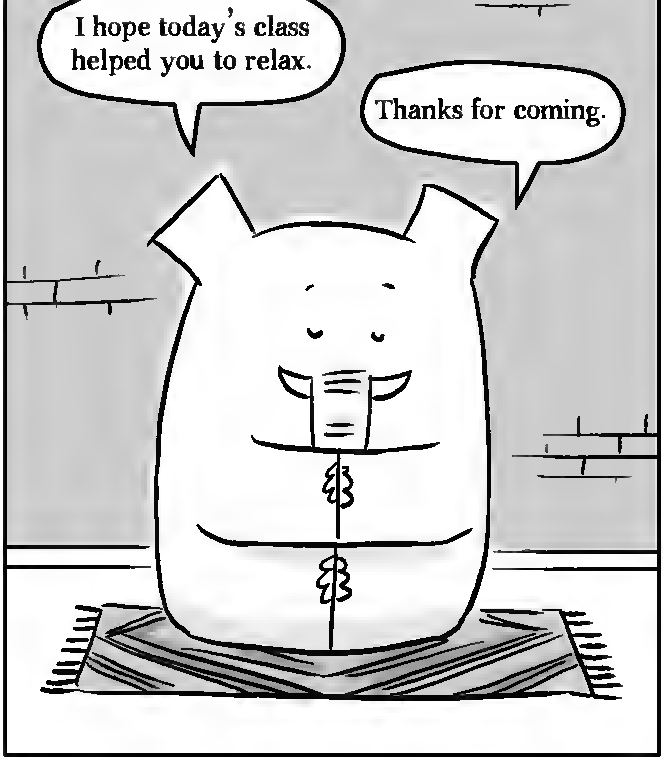


So many things so do this weekend...
Writings, hiking, dinner with relatives...

Weekend

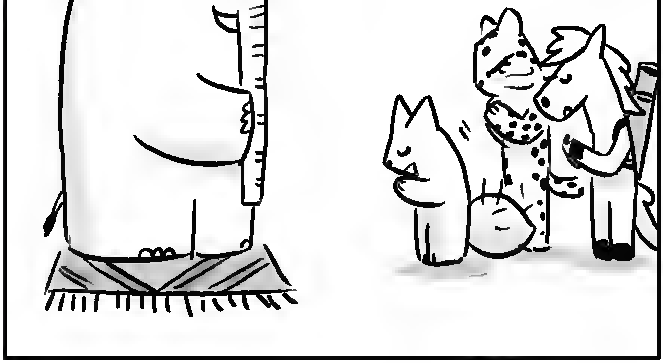


Reasons and excuses...



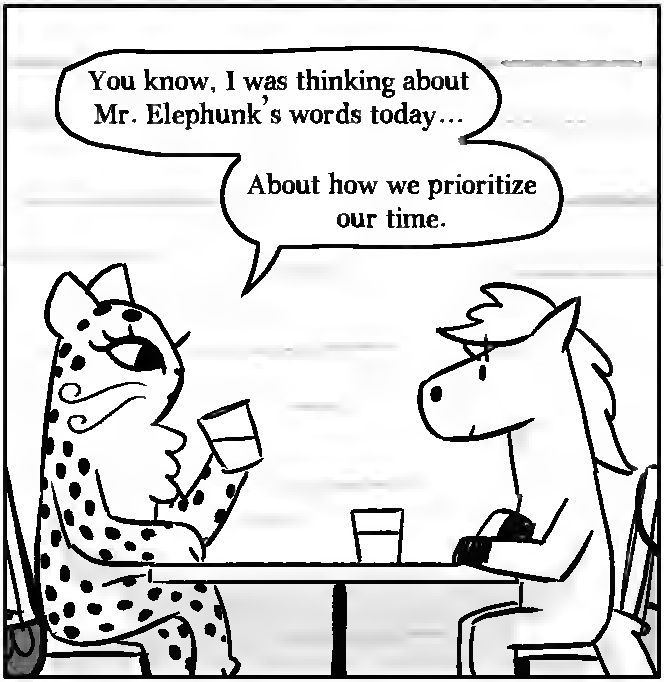
I hope today's class helped you to relax.
Thanks for coming.

Have a nice weekend.
Thanks Master Elephunk.

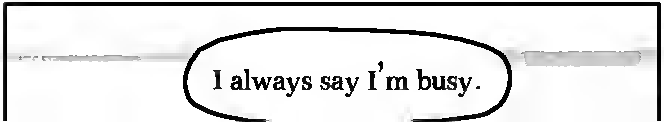


I'm lucky today!
I can have dinner with the pretty and busy Cheetah-B!
Stop flattering me Horsie.

I really enjoyed today's yoga session.



You know, I was thinking about Mr. Elephunk's words today...
About how we prioritize our time.

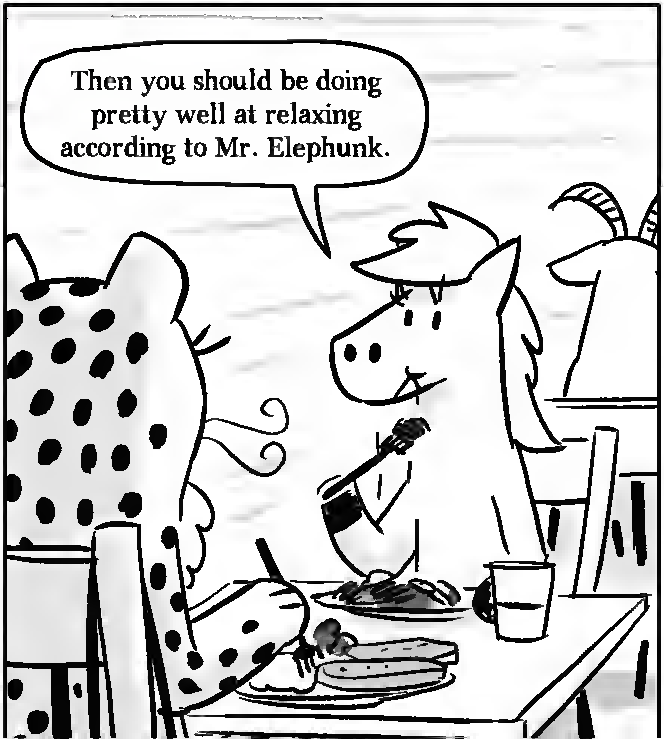


I always say I'm busy.

Too busy for gatherings, for faimly dinners, for a relationship...

But thinking about it, I'm not that busy.
I always have time to do hobbies such as yoga and poledance.

put on some face mask and relax at home on a weeknight...



Then you should be doing pretty well at relaxing according to Mr. Elephunk.

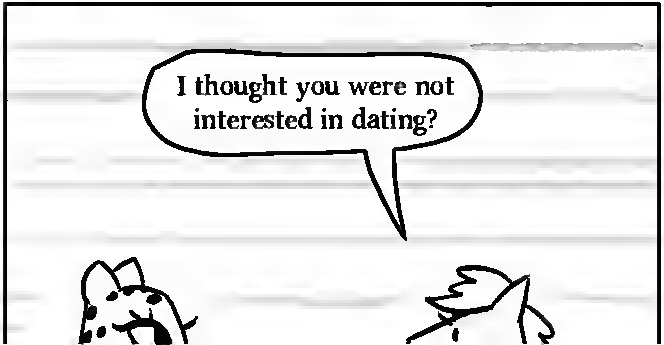
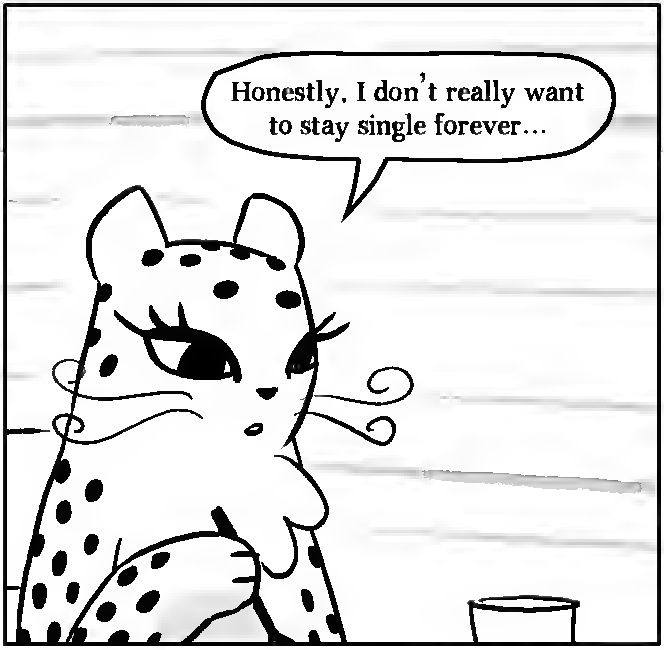
Yeah, but I also realized, rather than having no time for dating and stuff, I'm just not prioritizing it.



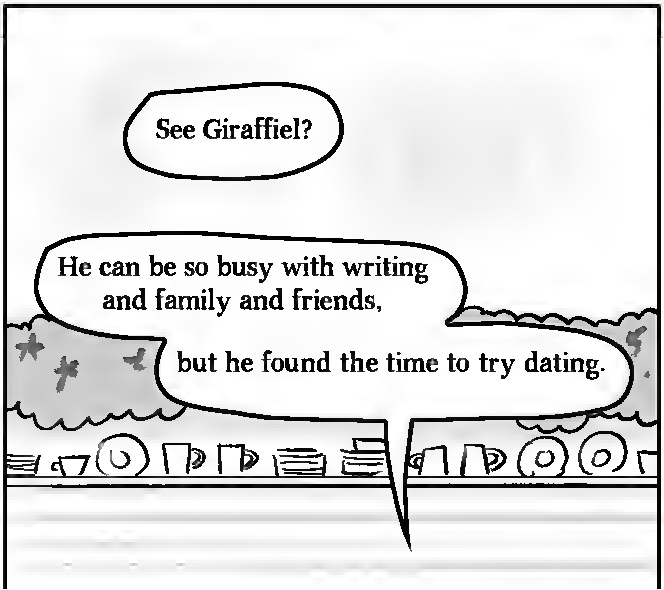
I thought you were not interested in dating?

I don't know, maybe I'm too focused on work and hobbies.

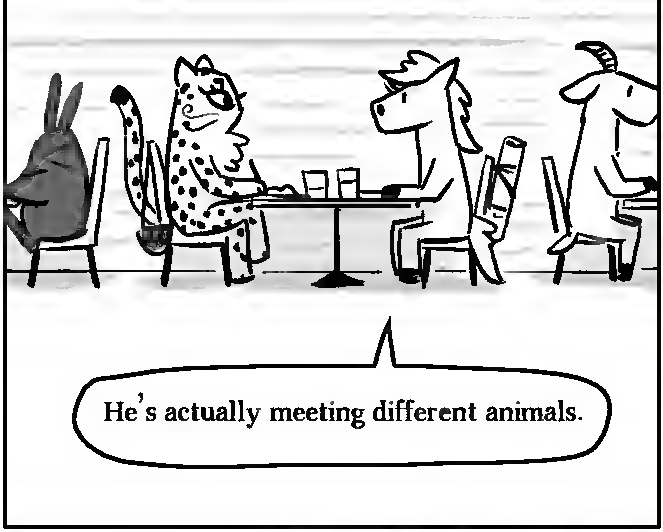


Honestly, I don't really want to stay single forever...

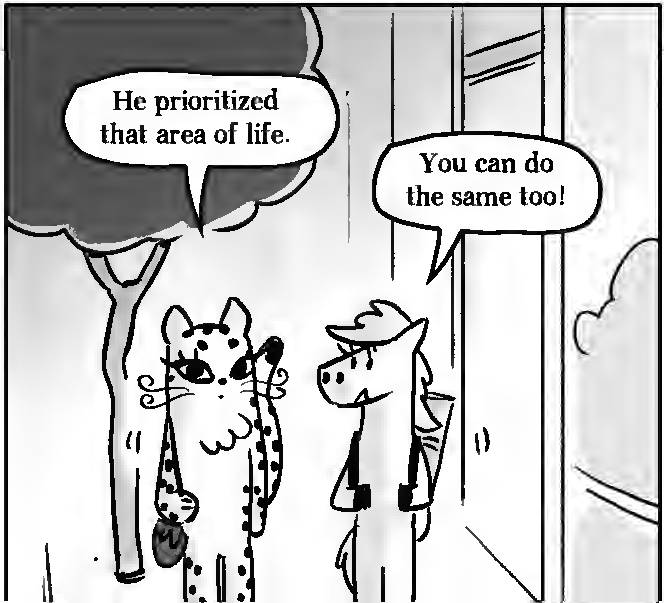
Well, maybe you just didn't feel the push to start things.



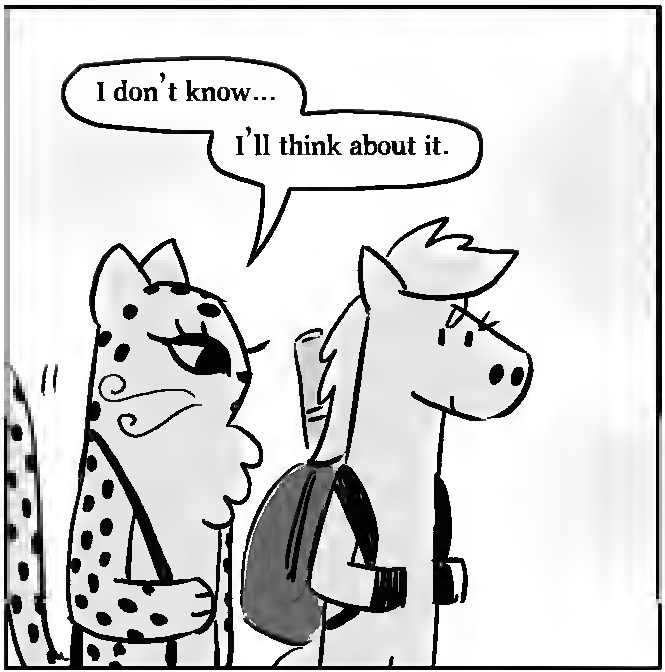
See Giraffiel?
He can be so busy with writing and family and friends,
but he found the time to try dating.



He's actually meeting different animals.



He prioritized that area of life.
You can do the same too!



I don't know...
I'll think about it.

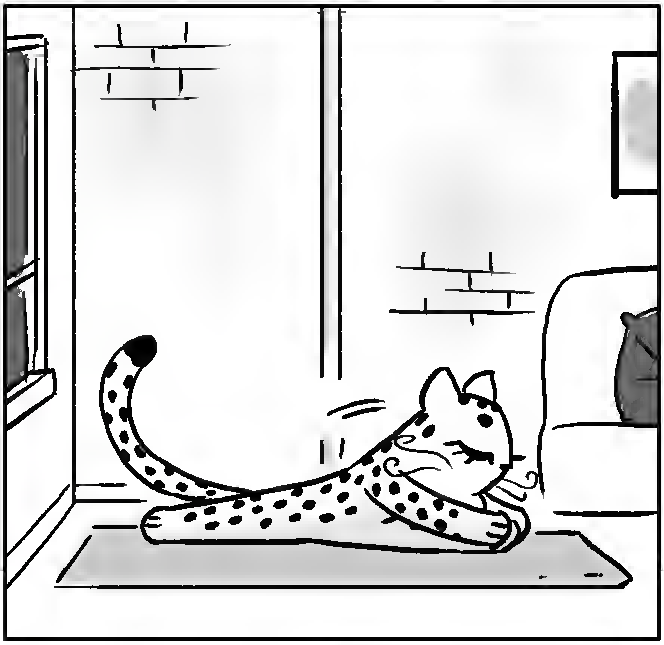
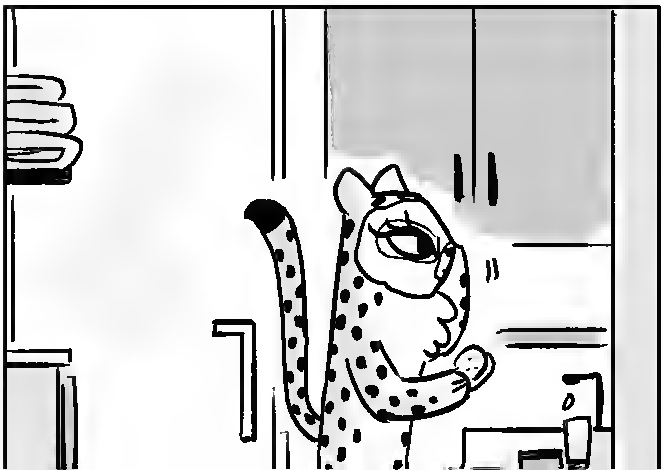
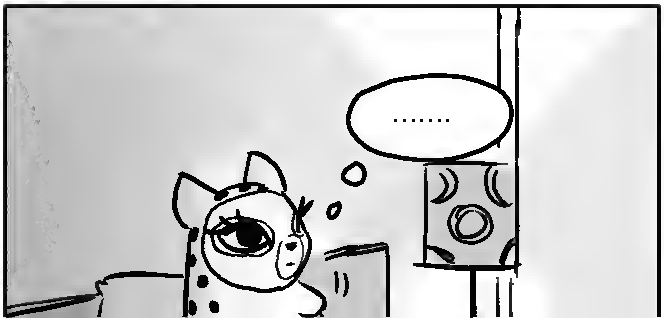
LOVE







It's your time and your life,
so it's really up to you to make choices.
bye!
